Case Study: Quick Resolution to Internal Fraud

I-SPY Detective Agency: Fraud Investigation

Location Of case: Bristol, England, UK

The Challenge Presented to us:

A client came to I-SPY with a case involving company fraud arising internally within the organisation. Due to a number of specific circumstances a quick resolution of the job in hand was critical. To complicate the situation even more, the suspect's location was 600 miles away from the clients company head offices. I-SPY was asked to plan and execute a complex surveillance operation, bringing to light valuable evidence.

Our Solution:

Because we have access to relentless resources and covert agents around the UK ready for rapid deployment, a covert agent in Bristol made best speed to the suspect's location within 13 minutes of our client's request. The agent spent a number of days at the location in question, partnering with the clients in house team to execute a plan of action.

End Result:

The subject of the operation admitted to the fraud, he then agreed to the terms given to him by our client. The case was resolved quickly saving our client thousands of pounds.
